WAKE UP!

This is some information that my people need to read and understand. I have been working on this information for many months now yet wasn't sure how best to present it. Understanding that so many of us refuse to pick up a book and read, I knew that I would have to use pictures to get my point across.

This is a small compilation of my personal studies and information which I have picked up from various sources along the way. I encourage everyone to research what is here...don't just take one person's word for anything, gain wisdom and understanding for yourself.

I will include biblical scriptures along with my personal interpretations and understanding, but again I encourage you to do your research read and ask the "Most High" for understanding.

It is my personal belief that many of our people are slowly waking up to the realization that we are the true Hebrew Israelites of the Bible. I also believe that the Bible is a guide-book, a story all about us, it describes in full detail what our ancestors did to cause our present situation, and if looked at with the right perspective, it gives us instructions on how to achieve true salvation. We are NOT Negroes, we are NOT African, we are NOT African/Afro-Americans, and although our skin tones range from varying degrees and shades of black, we are NOT Black. We are the chosen people of the Most High God of the Bible, known as Ahaya asher Ahaya (I AM that I AM).

It is my prayer that as we awaken to the realization of who we are, our true value, our true destiny, we will better understand why the rulers and superiors of this world are persistent upon us never knowing this information and keeping us in a state of poverty, mental, and physical enslavement.

So let's get into it, starting in the book of Genesis:

Genesis Chapter 1 Verse 26

26 And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth.

So we see in the 1st chapter Ahaya decided to make man in his image and likeness and gave us dominion over all of the creatures. In chapter 2 it goes more in-depth and explains how he made us, and where and this is where it becomes interesting.

Genesis Chapter 2 Verses 7-14

7 And the LORD God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul.

8 And the LORD God planted a garden eastward in Eden; and there he put the man whom he had formed.

9 And out of the ground made the LORD God to grow every tree that is pleasant to the sight, and good for food; the tree of life also in the midst of the garden, and the tree of knowledge of good and evil.

10 And a river went out of Eden to water the garden; and from thence it was parted, and became into four heads.

11 The name of the first is Pison: that is it which compasseth the whole land of Havilah, where there is gold;

12 And the gold of that land is good: there is bdellium and the onyx stone.

13 And the name of the second river is Gihon: the same is it that compasseth the whole land of Ethiopia.

14 And the name of the third river is Hiddekel: that is it which goeth toward the east of Assyria. And the fourth river is Euphrates.

What this tells us is that Ahaya made man of the dust of the ground, lets have a look at the various types of dust of the ground, from sand to red and black clay:

No matter how he mixed it one has to admit that a man made from the dust of the ground is brown "Black" in color...so we call all agree that according to the Bible the 1st man was a "Black" man made in the image and likeness of the Most High who is obviously what color?! Still don't believe me let's go back to the Scripture above.

The most high made a garden in the east with four rivers coming out of it into the following lands, Havilah, Assyria, and Ethiopia all of which are located in Africa and the area now known as the Middle-East or Ancient Mesopotamia (the "Cradle of Civilization"). Look it up on a map. In the mean time here is something else to consider:

The Bible is about you Black Man!

As I looked, thrones were set in place, and the Ancient of Days took his seat. His clothing was as white as snow; the hair of his head was WHITE like WOOL [Daniel 7:9]. His body was like chrysolite, his FACE, ARMS and LEGS look like burnished BRONZE. [Daniel 10:6]

Ok, I digress. But honestly, how many us are supposed bible scholars who have read the scriptures and are faithful church goers, yet never considered what was right in front of us or even worse have only read what the church has told us to read? In which instance we are doing ourselves a disservice and allowing our enemies to keep us in captivity. Slavery of the MIND.

The bible clearly tells us in the book of Daniel and again in the book of Revelation what the Most High God looks like, so why were we never told that in church? Why are we programed to look at a "White Jesus"? That is just it, we are programed...just like when they asked Black children which doll is better to play with:

Fifty Years Later, Black Girls Still Prefer White Dolls

Jorge Rivas Apr 7, 2009 10:42AM EDT

Last week, ABC's Good Morning America (GMA) brought back the famous doll experiments by sociologist Kenneth and Mamie Clark. Originally conducted in the 1940s, the "doll experiments" studied Black school aged children's attitudes about race by giving them identical white and Black dolls and asking which one they'd prefer to play with. Half a century ago when the original study took place, 63% of Black children studied said they'd rather play with the white doll.

We are still stuck on stupid...programed to hate ourselves, love and depend on the White doll.

The powers that be would have us to believe that everything good is white and everything bad is black. Yashaya (the true name of Jesus) is white, the “Great White Hope” to save us from our sins, yet here we are years after our supposed emancipation from physical enslavement and yet we are treated like 4th class citizens (we are not even true citizens – but that is a lesson for another day), we are the poorest group of people just above the Native American (also Hebrew Israelites), and they have designed a systemic method of keeping us enslaved by allowing us to play the fool, all while thinking we are bettering our lives.

Now, moving to the next phase. Enclosed you will find some flyers, from Hebrew Israelite camps which will say that Esau (Edom, Idumean) is the White man. This is incorrect, while White people do become red from sun poisoning (sunburn), Esau was Jacob’s twin and his complexion was ruddy(red), not white. And yes we know, Black women can, and have given birth to white babies. But this was not the case in the story of Jacob and Esau’s birth:

Genesis Chapter 25

20 And Isaac was forty years old when he took Rebekah to wife, the daughter of Bethuel the Syrian of Padanaram, the sister to Laban the Syrian.

21 And Isaac intreated the LORD for his wife, because she was barren: and the LORD was intreated of him, and Rebekah his wife conceived.

22 And the children struggled together within her; and she said, If it beso, why am I thus? And she went to enquire of the LORD.

23 And the LORD said unto her, Two nations are in thy womb, and two manner of people shall be separated from thy bowels; and the one people shall be stronger than the other people; and the elder shall serve the younger.

24 And when her days to be delivered were fulfilled, behold, there weretwins in her womb.

25 And the first came out red, all over like an hairy garment; and they called his name Esau.

26 And after that came his brother out, and his hand took hold on Esau's heel; and his name was called Jacob: and Isaac wasthreescore years old when she bare them.

27 And the boys grew: and Esau was a cunning hunter, a man of the field; and Jacob was a plain man, dwelling in tents.

This image by James C. Lewis (Noire3000) gives a perfect example of what Esau mostly likely looked like.

The "White Man" has never been equipped to handle living in that region, primarily because they lack the appropriate amount of Melanin - The pigment that gives human skin, hair, and eyes their color. Dark-skinned people have more melanin in their skin than light-skinned people have. Melanin is produced by cells called melanocytes. It provides some protection against skin damage from the sun, and the melanocytes increase their production of melanin in response to sun exposure. Freckles, which occur in people of all races, are small, concentrated areas of increased melanin production.

Sun Poisoning (Sunburn) - the injury that results to the skin after it has been exposed to excess UV radiation. Sunburns cause skin redness and sometimes peeling and blisters.

ESAU is not the White Man! He is our brother...Saudi Arabia. Hint: ESAU: SAUDI, I'm just saying...the Bible gives further details about all of this. For more study points check out this brother's videos on YouTube: GDASH THE PROPHET - <https://www.youtube.com/channel/UCyjZRGdrGLFvWdbCAuxcayw> He has a 7 Part Series of teaching on this subject worth taking a look at, and remember always do your own reading. Pick up the Bible...READ IT!

The Bible tells us the world was repopulated by the 3 sons of Noah following the great flood. The book of Enoch (one of the rediscovered Dead Sea Scrolls – not included in the official Bible), tells us in so many words that Noah was an Albino. Picture this:

Description of Noah

Book of Enoch - Chapter 106, CVI

1. And after some days my son Methuselah took a wife for his son Lamech, and she became pregnant by him and bore a son. 2. And his body was white as snow and red as the blooming of a rose, and the hair of his head and his long locks were white as wool, and his eyes beautiful. And when he opened his eyes, he lighted up the whole house like the sun, and the whole house was very bright. 3. And thereupon he arose in the hands of the midwife, opened his mouth, and conversed with the Lord of righteousness. 4. And his father Lamech was afraid of him and fled, and came to his father Methuselah. 5. And he said unto him: 'I have begotten a strange son, diverse from and unlike man, and resembling the sons of the God of heaven; and his nature is different and he is not like us, and his eyes are as the rays of the sun, and his countenance is glorious.'

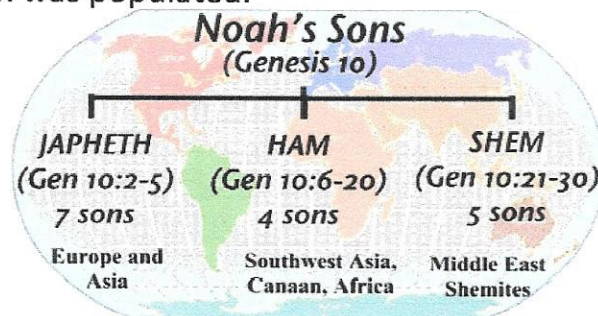

Noah's 3 sons give us the racial and cultural breakdown we have today, all of this is found in the bible and bible dictionary. What is sad they know who we are but we are clueless of who we are. Division of the Nations

Genesis 9:18-19 Now the sons of Noah who went out of the ark were Shem, Ham, and Japheth. And Ham was the father of Canaan. ¹⁹ These three were the sons of Noah, and from these the whole earth was populated.

JAPHETH (jā'fēth, Heb. yepheth, God will enlarge, Gen. 9:27), a son of Noah. He was older than Shem (Gen. 10:21), but comes third in some lists of the three sons (Gen. 6:10; 9:18). Shem, however, is usually named first (Gen. 5:32; 11:10). Japheth and his wife were saved in the ark (Gen. 7:7); he aided Shem in covering the naked body of their drunken father (Gen. 9:20-27). He is the progenitor of the more remote northern peoples of southeastern Europe. That he was to occupy the tents of Shem is thought to refer to conquests of the Greeks who were descendants of Japheth. This he did during the days of Assyrian power. He had seven sons whose descendants occupied the isles of the Gentiles, Hellenes or Greeks (Gen. 10:5), an area including Asia Minor and upper Greece.

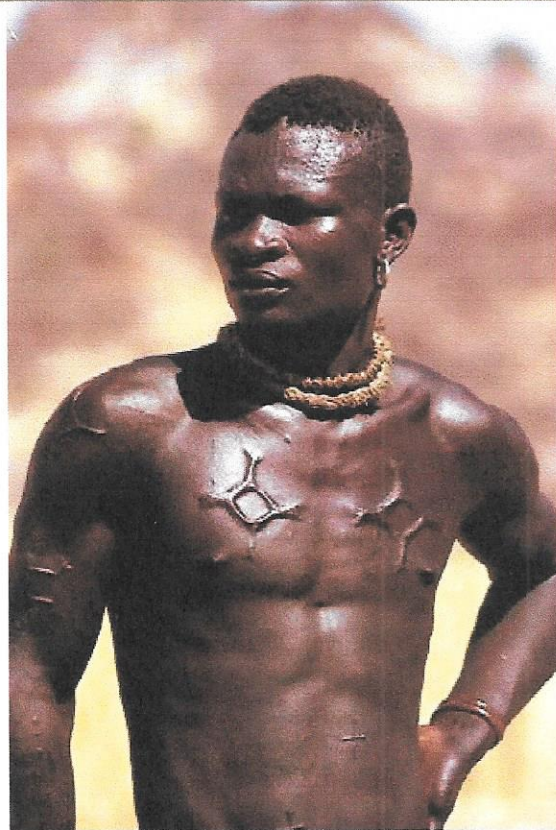

Yapheth – Older Son of Noah, progenitor of the Caucasians (Gentiles and Heathens)
So in essence our distant cousins.

HAM (hām, Heb. hām, perhaps hot). 1. The youngest son of Noah, born probably about 96 years before the Flood; and one of the eight persons to live through the Flood. He became the progenitor of the dark races; not the Negroes, but the Egyptians, Ethiopians, Libyans and Canaanites (Gen. 10:6-20). His indecency, when his father lay drunken, brought a curse upon Canaan (Gen. 9:20-27).

2. A city of the Zuzim, E of the Jordan (Gen. 14:5). This is not the same word as the son of Noah.

3. The descendants of the original Ham (Ps. 78:51; 105:23; 106:22). In these passages "Ham" is used as another name for Egypt as representing Ham's principal descendants.

Ham – Youngest Son of Noah, progenitor of Africans (note the Bible dictionary distinctly says “not the Negroes”, so that means we are not Afro or African anything.)

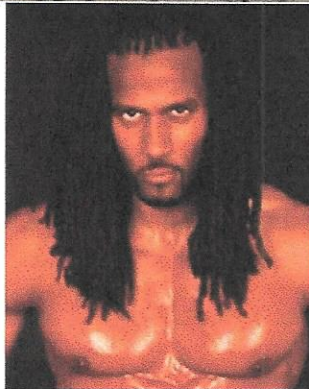

More of our distant cousins.

SHEM (shēm, Heb. shēm, Gr. sēm, name, fame), second son of Noah, and progenitor of the Semitic race, was born 98 years before the Flood (Gen. 11:10) and lived six hundred years, outliving his descendants for nine generations excepting Eber and Abraham. In the racial prophecy which Noah made after the event of his drunkenness (Gen. 9:25-27), he mentions "Jehovah, God of Shem." The three great monotheistic religions, Judaism, Christianity and Islam, all had Semitic origins, and Noah added concerning Japheth that his descendants would "dwell in the tents of Shem," indicating that the Aryan peoples to a large extent have derived their civilization from the Semites. In the "Table of the nations" (Gen. 10) Shem is given five sons, of whom Arpachshad (KJV "Arphaxad") was clearly an individual and the others are peoples or progenitors of peoples: e.g., "Lud" refers to the Lydians in Asia Minor, "Elam" points to the Elamites who lived E of the Tigris river; "Aram" means the Aramaeans or Syrians who lived in Syria and Mesopotamia and "Asshur" is Assyria. Scoffers pointed out a century ago that "Asshur" is mentioned also in the Hamite list (10:11), but archaeologists have found Hamitic artifacts under Semitic ruins of Assyrian cities. Shem, Ham and Japheth probably differed only as brothers do, but their descendants are quite distinct. A.B.F.

SHEM

Shem – 2nd Son of Noah, progenitor of our family line.

I could go on, but I think this is more than enough of an information overload!!! There are several more articles and information about recent current events that are worth looking into, such as the not so coincidental marriage of Meghan Markel on Queen Sophie Charlotte's birth date...the world's elite (The Illuminati) never do anything without a reason.

The Book of Enoch: Black Adam, Albino Noah, and The Image of God

December 21, 2016 by Black History In The Bible

Was everyone on the planet black before Noah's flood? The book of Enoch seems to indicate that the world before Noah's flood was a much darker place, as far as melanin is concerned. While The Book of Enoch is not considered canon (official scripture), it was very important to the ancient Hebrews. In fact, it was so important, that they hid it among the Dead Sea scrolls at Qumran. Let's start by looking at the story concerning Noah's birth:

“After a time, my son Mathusala took a wife for his son Lamech. She became pregnant by him, and brought forth a child, the flesh of which was as white as snow, and red as a rose; the hair of whose head was white like wool, and long; and whose eyes were beautiful. When he opened them, he illuminated all the house, like the sun; the whole house abounded with light. And when he was taken from the hand of the midwife, opening also his mouth, he spoke to the Lord of righteousness. Then Lamech his father was afraid of him; and flying away came to his own father Mathusala, and said, I have begotten a son, unlike to other children. He is not human; but, resembling the offspring of the angels of heaven, is of a different nature from ours, being altogether unlike to us.” – Book of Enoch 105:1-3

The Colored Elephant In The Room

These three verses in The Book of Enoch provide a glimpse into what was going on around the world at the time of Noah's birth. In order to make this easier, we're going to break down the information into two sections:

What The Text Says

1. Noah was born with white skin.
2. Noah did not look like the other humans.
3. Lamech believed Noah was the son of an angel.
4. Angels were having children on earth.

What The Text Implies

1. White skin was not common among humans.
2. The children of the angels (nephilim) were white.

Although the nephilim play a very important role in Noah's flood, they are beyond the scope and focus of this article. If you are interested in an in depth study on the nephilim and Noah's flood, please check out my book, As The Days of Noah Were: The Sons of God and The Coming Apocalypse.

If Humans Weren't White...

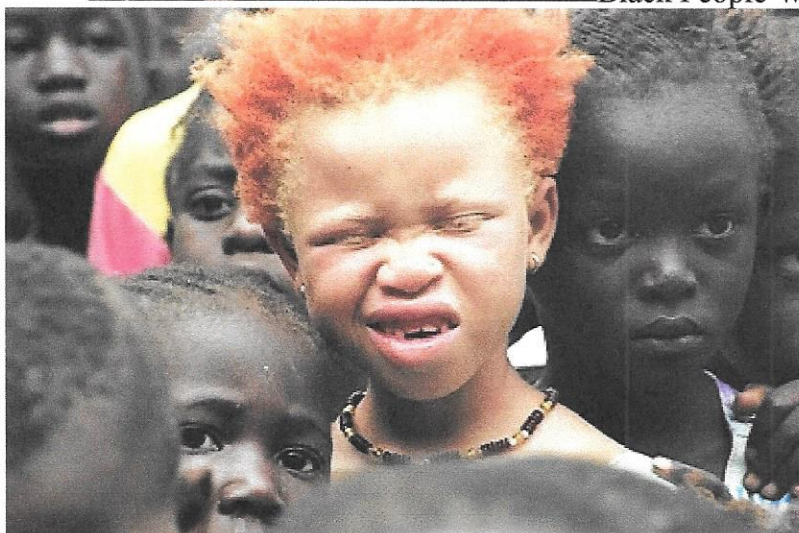

What color were they? The text seems to imply that pre-flood humans were people of color. Based on the location of The Garden of Eden, they were most likely brown or dark skinned people. If you still aren't convinced that pre-flood people were people of color, Lamech's words, "being altogether unlike to us" proves that everything about Noah was different, including his skin color.

Noah: The Black Albino

Although Noah was described as having "white skin", we know that not only Europeans have white skin. Black people can also be born with white skin. We refer to these people as albinos. Here are a few pictures of black people with white skin:

Black People With Albinism

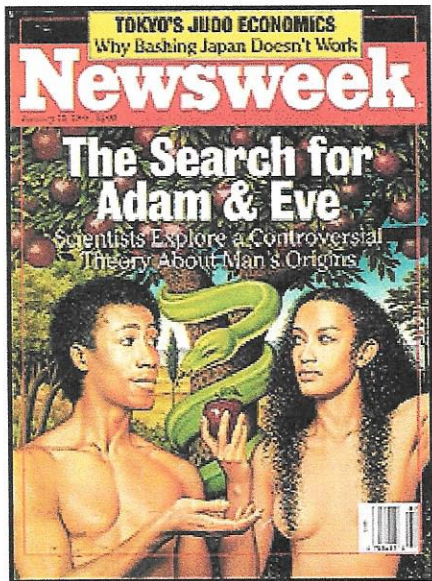

Red Haired Albino

As we can clearly see, white babies are not only born to Europeans. In fact, it is a scientific fact that black people can have white children, but white people cannot have a black child. The only way for all of the races to exist on the planet, is if they started dark, and then became lighter over time.

Enoch, Lamech, and Noah were all from the line of Seth (Adam's third son). If they were people of color, it also indicates that Seth was a man of color, which would also make Adam a man of color.

Adam: The First Man of Color

For starters, Genesis 2:7 tells us that Adam was created from the dust of the earth. In the Mesopotamian region, where the garden was located, all of the soil is colored. However, I'll readily admit that it isn't a very strong argument. The strongest argument for Adam being black are the three verses above.

- If Noah was white and the other humans were not, they were likely brown or dark skinned.
- If the humans were brown or dark skinned, it would've been passed down from Adam.
- If brown or dark skin was passed down from Adam, it would mean that Adam was most likely brown or dark skinned.

These are reasonable conclusions based solely on the text presented. That brings us to the most controversial conclusion to where the evidence leads:

The Image of God

We are constantly bombarded with images of a white God or a white Christ, but why is that? If race doesn't matter and God is just a spirit without race, why is he always depicted as white and not black or Arab or even Asian?

“And God said, Let us make man in our image, after our likeness: and let them have dominion over the fish of the sea, and over the fowl of the air, and over the cattle, and over all the earth, and over every creeping thing that creepeth upon the earth. So God created man in his own image, in the image of God created he him; male and female created he them.” – Genesis 1:26-27

If God made man in his image, and after his likeness, what would that man look like? He would look like God. Many people try to downplay the appearance of God by saying that God is a spirit, which means he doesn't have a body or color, but that's not scriptural. That is personal belief and opinion:

- Adam had arms and legs.
- Adam had hair.
- Adam had a face.
- Adam had a skin color.

Adam was a walking, talking, self portrait of the creator. This brings us back to The Book of Enoch. If the people in Noah's time were not white, and all of the people on earth were black, what color was Adam? If Adam was created in the image of God, and Adam was a man of color, what does that say about God?

Please Leave Your Comments Below

- What do you think about the possibility of an ethnic creator?
- How would the knowledge of a black God affect your beliefs?

My Biblical Scientific Philosphication of Genus Indica Sativa

November 29, 2011 at 10:56pm

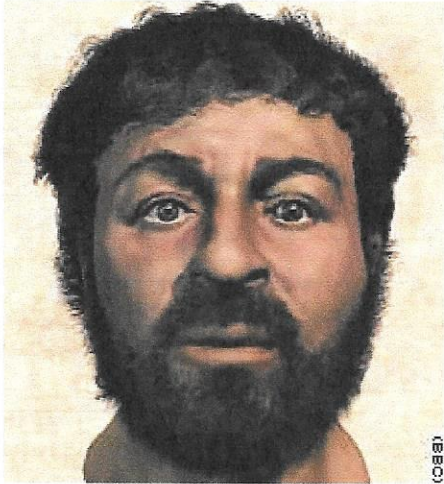

Ok, so I done figured out what kinda tree was in the midst of the Garden of Eden yo...see Genesis 3:2-7 says that ol'dude upstairs said they shouldn't eat nor touch the tree or they would die right? But the serpent said, "Ah hell naw! You won't die but your eyes will be opened (stuff become hella clear)...so ol'girl took some and said, "damn I can cook it in some brownies and shit too! This some good shit and it makes you wise." So she gave some to her man (puff puff give) then they was feeling so good they figured out how to get they freak on, Adam was like "damn girl that was cool cover that up so we can do that again later...did you know that the cannabis tree can grow as tall as 13 feet high? Thats right yall, I figured it out! Its from the earth right there in the old testament yo...now I'm hungry. Just had to drop this knowlege on you before I get kicked up out the garden...

Roll me up one of those!

Jesus may have looked.

Once again it's on! Many of you know that every now and again as I am reading my bible, a past time I recommend to all Pagans and Christians alike, I come across some interesting information which makes me say hmmm. Then I start researching and studying historical documents, scientific studies, and anything I can find to gain a complete understanding of what that passage was imparting to me. Well this time, it was not my own Biblicalphilosophication but that of Minister Louis Farrakhan of the Nation of Islam.

Now while I am aware that some may not listen to what the man has to say because they disagree with his movement, keep in mind that as a scholar of life and religions, one should always take a moment to listen to the messages of all faiths as you should seek to learn from various sources keeping that which is applicable to your personal truth and discarding what does not work for yourself. In the spirit of the "Easter" season, the brother raised some pretty interesting points and questions that I had not yet discovered but plan to now investigate.

So here is that message, listen, watch, and never forget to question everything. Namaste!

Revelation 1:14-19 King James Version (KJV)

14 His head and his hairs were white like wool, as white as snow; and his eyes were as a flame of fire;

15 And his feet like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace; and his voice as the sound of many waters.

16 And he had in his right hand seven stars: and out of his mouth went a sharp twoedged sword: and his countenance was as the sun shineth in his strength.

17 And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not; I am the first and the last:

18 I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and have the keys of hell and of death.

Biblicalphilosophications 3: Down the Rabbit Hole

TUESDAY, MAY 2, 2017

Hello fam, I know it has been some time since I have done one of these...mostly because of my inner spiritual turmoil. That being said, I came across this young brother's youtube site and after listening to his readings, and watching his videos...hearing him confirm things which I have been saying and believing for years, it made me want to pick up the bible again, which had not done in a very long time. So down the rabbit hole we shall go, its time to wake up to who WE are...I know many are not ready for this knowledge, so I am only sharing this with a select few.

As I always say, "read for yourself, see understanding for yourself, the Higher Power gave us a brain...use it." If you aren't ready...that's ok, waking up to the knowledge of self is not an overnight process especially when you are being asked to question and research all of the things you have learned, been told, and think you know...but what is the hardest is dealing with the realization that things you think you know is not the complete truth.

I am posting 4 videos here, and you should take the time to watch them when you have time to fully listen and by all means pull out your bible, take notes and look up the scriptures for yourself...although some of the scriptures will not be found there as they were a part of the original 1611 version of the KJV of the bible and are now called apocryphal. But keep an open mind to the knowledge.

Let's take a trip down the rabbit hole of "Not So White Jesus" and why this knowledge is important to us.

THE TRUE IMAGE OF JESUS CHRIST

John 8:32 "And ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free."

Revelation 1:14 "His head and his hairs were white like wool, as white as snow; and his eyes were as a flame of fire; v:15 And his feet like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace; and his voice as the sound of many waters."

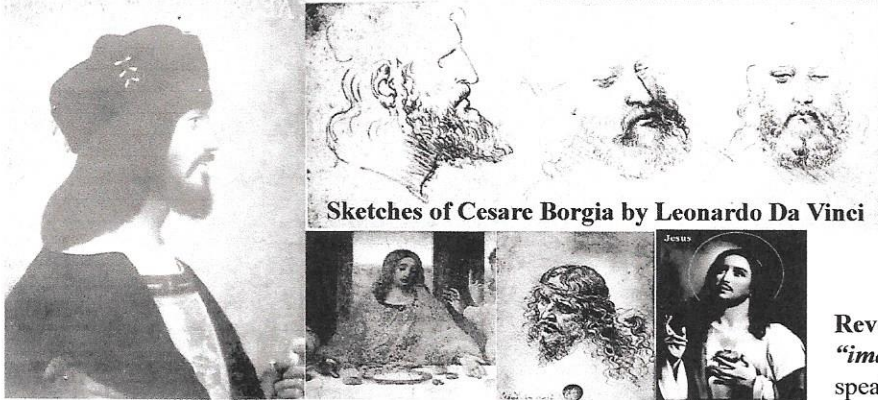

Daniel 10:6 "His body also was like the beryl, and his face as the appearance of lightning, and his eyes as lamps of fire, and his arms and his feet like in color to polished brass, and the voice of his words like the voice of a multitude."

The Apostle John and the Prophet Daniel describe JESUS CHRIST as a BLACK MAN WITH WOOLY HAIR!
So why does Christianity preach about a Caucasian image as Jesus?

The Apostle Paul warned us about false teachings about another Jesus.

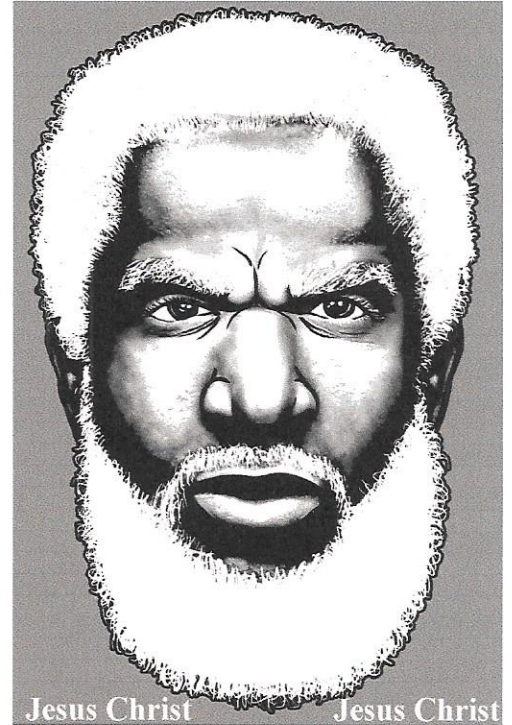

2 Corinthians 11:4 "For if he that cometh preacheth another Jesus, whom we have not preached, or if ye receive another spirit, which ye have not received, or another gospel, which ye have not accepted, ye might well bear with him."

Cesare Borgia + Leonardo Da Vinci = The Image of the BEAST!

Sketches of Cesare Borgia by Leonardo Da Vinci

Revelation 1:14

Daniel 10:6

During the Renaissance era, around 1453, Leonardo Da Vinci was hired by Pope Alexander the 6th of Rome to paint his son; Cesare Borgia as the world famous Christian image of Jesus the Christ.

Revelation 13:15 "And he had power to "give life" unto the "image of the beast", that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be killed."

The life of Christ was given to this false image and Christians teach that this image speaks the words of Christ (the Bible). History proves that millions have been killed for not worshipping this image. This began with the Renaissance, Rome and Spain sent such persons as Christopher Columbus, Hernan Cortes, Ponce Deleon, Americus Vespucchi and countless others with armies to kill, enslave and indoctrinate the so called Indians & Blacks (the Israelites), into Christianity. Prophesied in Psalms 83:1-5.

http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Cesar_Borgia

In Volume One of Celebrated Crimes, Alexandre Dumas, père states that some pictures of Jesus Christ produced around Borgia's lifetime were based on Cesare Borgia, and that this in turn has influenced images of Jesus produced since that time.

Book: Our Living Bible

The church of Sardis, though corrupt, still has a number of the pure and faithful members worthy to wear white raiment (3: 4-5). White was the hallowed garb of purity among the pagans, as well as among the Christians and Jews. Thus the Israelite priests were dressed in white linen (Exod. 28: 40-42); and whiteness symbolizes purification from sins in Isa. 1: 18. In the Gospels, an angel who came to sit by Jesus' tomb (Mark 16: 5) was clad in a long white garment; and elsewhere in the Revelation the armies of heaven appear in fine, spotless white linen, riding on white horses (Rev. 19: 14). Representations of saints and martyrs in white raiment abound in Early Christian art. Similarly the priests shown sacrificing on the frescoes at Dura-Europos (third century, A.D.) are dressed in long, white robes and are wearing a high conical cap of the same material. In the religious philosophy of the Alexandrian Jew, Philo, personages bathed in white light appear endowed with mystic-symbolic significance.

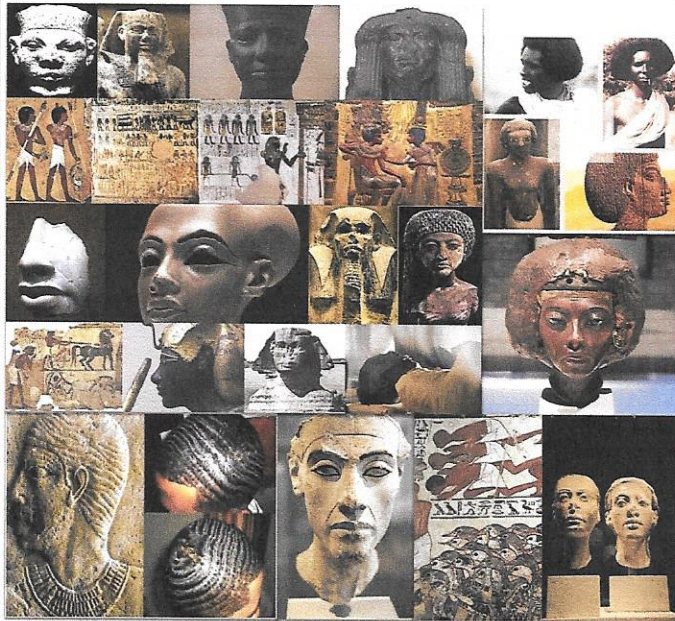

He that overcometh the same shall be clothed in white raiment...

Apocrypha

The apocrypha is a selection of books which were published in the original 1611 King James Bible. These apocryphal books were positioned between the Old and New Testament (it also contained maps and genealogies). The apocrypha was a part of the KJV for 274 years until being removed in 1885 A.D. A portion of these books were called deuterocanonical books by some entities, such as the Catholic church.

Many claim the apocrypha should never have been included in the first place, raising doubt about its validity and believing it was not God-inspired (for instance, a reference about magic seems inconsistent with the rest of the Bible: Tobit chapter 6, verses 5-8). Others believe it is valid and that it should never have been removed- that it was considered part of the Bible for nearly 2,000 years before it was recently removed a little more than 100 years ago. Some say it was removed because of not finding the books in the original Hebrew manuscripts. Others claim it wasn't removed by the church, but by printers to cut costs in distributing Bibles in the United States. Both sides tend to cite the same verses that warn against adding or subtracting from the Bible: Revelation 22:18. The word 'apocrypha' means 'hidden.' Fragments of Dead Sea Scrolls dating back to before 70 A.D. contained parts of the apocrypha books in Hebrew, including Sirach and Tobit.

Keep this in mind when reading the following apocryphal books. Martin Luther said, "Apocrypha--that is, books which are not regarded as equal to the holy Scriptures, and yet are profitable and good to read." (King James Version Defended page 98.)

My theory is these books of the bible were removed to further the enslavement of the true "Hebrew Israelites" so-called "African Americans". Removing proof of their true identities.

Other Biblical Books include the Pseudepigrapha many of these stories were passed down orally long before the "Bible" as we know it was written. Some of the stories are referenced in the New Testament with no source. Like the Apocrypha it includes information which the true "Hebrews" can benefit from as it gives genealogical and historical bases.

Jewish Holy Scriptures: The Apocrypha and Pseudepigrapha

by Michael E. Stone

The Tanakh (Hebrew Bible) consists of a collection of writings dating from approximately the 13th - 3rd centuries BCE. These books were included in the Jewish canon by the Talmudic sages at Yavneh around the end of the first century CE, after the destruction of the Second Temple. However, there are many other Jewish writings from the Second Temple Period which were excluded from the Tanakh; these are known as the Apocrypha and the Pseudepigrapha.

The Apocrypha (Greek, "hidden books") are Jewish books from that period not preserved in the Tanakh, but included in the Latin (Vulgate) and Greek (Septuagint) Old Testaments. The Apocrypha are still regarded as part of the canon of the Roman Catholic and Orthodox churches, and as such, their number is fixed.

The term Pseudepigrapha (Greek, "falsely attributed") was given to Jewish writings of the same period, which were attributed to authors who did not actually write them. This was widespread in Greco-Roman antiquity - in Jewish, Christian, and pagan circles alike. Books were attributed to pagan authors, and names drawn from the repertoire of biblical personalities, such as Adam, Noah, Enoch, Abraham, Moses, Elijah, Ezekiel, Baruch, and Jeremiah. The Pseudepigrapha resemble the Apocrypha in general character, yet were not included in the Bible, Apocrypha, or rabbinic literature.

When They Were Written

The oldest known Jewish work not included in the Bible is the Book of Enoch. This is a complex work, written in the third (or perhaps even the late fourth) century BCE, after the return from the Babylonian Exile and the establishment of the Second Jewish Commonwealth (6th-5th centuries BCE) and before the Maccabean revolt in 172 BCE. The oldest copies of the Book of Enoch, dating from the third century BCE, were discovered among the Dead Sea Scrolls (see below).

The latest of the Apocrypha and Pseudepigrapha are the Apocalypses of Ezra and Baruch, written in the decades following the Roman destruction of the Second Temple in 70 CE. These works, contemporary with those of the early Rabbinic school of Yavneh, reflect the theological and ethical struggles and dilemmas aroused by the Roman conquest of Judea and the destruction of the Temple.

Most of these works were written in the Land of Israel, in Aramaic or Hebrew. However, some of them, such as The Wisdom of Solomon, were written in Greek. These Jewish Greek writings were produced in the widespread Jewish Diaspora of the time, mainly in Egypt (Alexandria) and in North Africa. Although most of the Hebrew and Aramaic texts have been lost over the centuries, many of them, translated into Greek or Oriental Christian languages (such as Ethiopic, Syriac or Armenian) have been found. Early Christianity showed great interest in Jewish traditions and stories about biblical figures and events, and as a result scholars now have access to a substantial library of Jewish writing, created during a crucial period of Jewish history, but preserved only within the Christian tradition.

The Dead Sea Scrolls

Scholarly interest was renewed after the discovery of the Dead Sea Scrolls in 1947. In the eleven caves near Qumran north-west of the Dead Sea, parts of more than 700 ancient Jewish manuscripts were discovered. These had been written in the same period as the Apocrypha and Pseudepigrapha, mostly in Hebrew, with a lesser number in Aramaic and even fewer in Greek. The Dead Sea Scrolls, as they came to be known, are assumed to have been the library of a sectarian community at Qumran. The scrolls survived the Roman ravaging of Judea in the years 68-70 CE, because they were hidden in caves. They have been a major focus of scholarly and general interest for the last half-century.

Among the Dead Sea Scrolls were a number of manuscripts of the Apocrypha and Pseudepigrapha, including ten manuscripts of the Book of Enoch in the original Aramaic (until then copies were extant only in an Ethiopic translation of a Greek translation of a Semitic original), which were vital to answering many questions about its origins. Dating of the manuscripts by their script shows that certain parts of Enoch are at least as old as the third century BCE. Fragments of Ben Sira in Hebrew, Tobit in Aramaic, the Epistle of Jeremiah in Greek, and others were also found at Qumran.

In addition to these discoveries, the scrolls included other, similar writings that were previously unknown. In a Psalms Scroll from Qumran, a number of additional compositions were discovered, thereby increasing the corpus of texts already known. They also assisted in understanding a literary genre - the later Psalms - which happen to be poorly represented in the Apocrypha and Pseudepigrapha. These prayerful poems provide a deep insight into the religious feelings and sentiments of their authors. The knowledge that a lively literary production of Psalms existed at that time means that any study of ancient Jewish literature must now take these apocryphal Psalms very seriously into account.

A third important aspect of the Dead Sea Scrolls is that they were discovered in a known archeological and sociological context, firmly fixing them in the Second Temple period. Before 1947, only medieval, Christian manuscripts of the Apocrypha and Pseudepigrapha were known, and they could be dated only on the basis of details contained in them. This is not always a dependable procedure. The Dead Sea Scrolls, stemming from a clearly established archeological context, are vital in dating the writings accurately.

Select List of Pseudepigrapha with some Notes

Apocalypse of Abraham: A Jewish writing presenting a vision seen by Abraham as well as legends about him. Surviving only in Old Church Slavonic, it was probably written in the second century C.E.

Books of Adam and Eve: A number of closely related versions of a writing dealing with the story of the protoplasts. All of these might derive from a Jewish source document, the language and date of which are unknown.

Apocalypse of Adam: An apparently Sethian gnostic revelation received by Adam and transmitted to Seth. Perhaps first or second century C.E. in date, it occurs in Nag Hammadi Codex 5.

Syriac Apocalypse of Baruch: An apocalypse written in the aftermath of the destruction of the Temple by the Romans, it is closely related to the Fourth Book of Ezra. Its chief subjects are the theological issues raised by the destruction.

Biblical Antiquities: Sometimes also called Pseudo-Philo, this is a biblical history from the creation to the monarchy and seems to have been written before the destruction of the Temple by the Romans.

Book of Enoch: A compendium of five Jewish apocalypses all of which were composed before the destruction of the Second Temple. These come from diverse periods and social sects, the oldest being the first and third parts. The whole book is found only in Ethiopic, but parts of it have been discovered in Greek and in the original Aramaic from Qumran.

Book of the Secrets of Enoch: (2 Enoch or Slavonic Enoch). A Jewish apocalypse from the time before the destruction of the Temple, relating Enoch's ascent to the heavens and the revelations received by him there, as well as the history of the antediluvian generations.

Fourth Book of Ezra (2 Esdras): An apocalypse written after the destruction of the Second Temple, probably between 95 and 100 C.E. It deals with the theological problems that arose from the destruction of the Temple.

Books of Giants: A writing associated with the Enoch cycle, relating the deeds of the giants who were born of the union of the "sons of God and human women" (Genesis 6:1-4). It is known from fragments found at Qumran and was written before 100 B.C.E.

Book of Jubilees: A retelling and expansion of the biblical history from the Creation to Moses. It was originally written in Hebrew early in the second century B.C.E.

Lives of the Prophets: A collection of biographical notes relating details of the lives and deeds of various prophets. It was circulated widely among Christians and probably reflects Jewish sources. Written in the early centuries C.E.

Fourth Book of Maccabees: A book written in Greek by a Hellenized Jew to show the rule of reason over the passions. The martyrs of the Maccabean revolt serve as his chief examples.

Testament of Moses (Assumption of Moses): This writing relates Moses' last charge to Joshua. Its present form dates from early in the first century C.E. It contains much important eschatological teaching.

Sibylline Oracles: Collection of oracles fabricated by Jewish and Christian propagandists in the early centuries C.E. They were attributed to the Sibyl, a pagan prophetess.

Testament of Solomon: A Greek work, Christian in its present form, containing extensive legendary and magical traditions associated with Solomon.

Testaments of the Twelve Patriarchs: A work listing the last wills and testaments of the twelve sons of Jacob. It survives in Greek in a Christian form but clearly contains many older, Jewish sectarian sources. It is important for the study of Jewish ethical and eschatological teaching.

The Bible says we were sold to the Greeks and would be removed far from our homeland, Jerusalem.

Joel 3:6 "The children also of Judah and the children of Jerusalem have ye sold unto the Grecians, that ye might remove them far from their border".

Christ reminded us, (the Israelites), that we would soon go into slavery according to the scriptures, and another race would take over Jerusalem.

The Truth About Slavery

THE SO CALLED BLACKS AND HISPANICS ARE "THE 12 TRIBES OF ISRAEL!"

YOU ARE THE CHILDREN OF THE SLAVE TRADE!

The Prophets warned us that if we broke God's commandments, we would be punished as a people. Read "Deuteronomy 28:15-68". This happened to no other nation!

Our children would be taken from us, given to another race of people, and we could do nothing to stop it from happening.

Deuteronomy 28:15 "But it shall come to pass, if thou wilt not hearken unto the voice of the LORD thy God, to observe to do all his commandments and his statutes which I command thee this day; that all these curses shall come upon thee, and overtake

We would also be forced to work for food, water, clothing and anything else we may need. Chains of iron were put upon our necks until we were destroyed as a people.

Deuteronomy 28:48 "Therefore shalt thou serve thine enemies which the Lord shall send against thee, in hunger, and in thirst, and in nakedness, and in want of all things; and he shall put a yoke of iron upon thy neck, until he have destroyed thee".

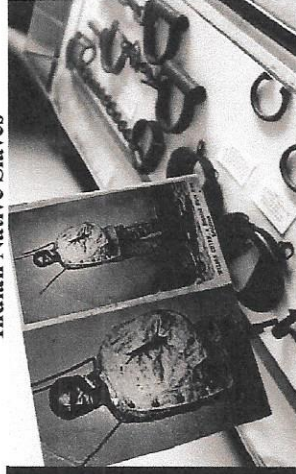

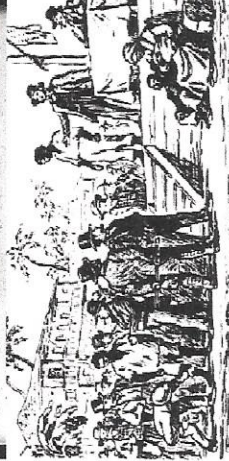

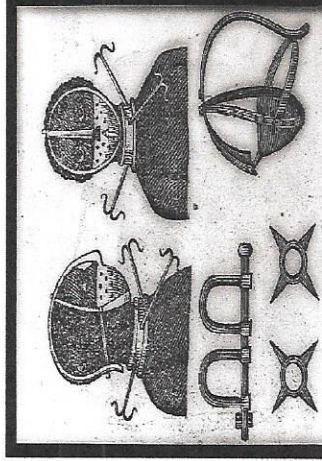

The yokes of iron were removed from our necks once we were mentally and spiritually destroyed as a people and divided into false religions and nationalities.

In the year 65 BC The Roman Armies under General Pompey captured Jerusalem. In 70 AD General Vespasian and his son Titus put an end to the Jewish state, with great slaughter. During the period of the military governors of Palestine many outrages and atrocities were committed against the residue of the people. During the period from Pompey to Julius it has been estimated that over 1,000,000 Jews fled into Africa fleeing from Roman Persecution and slavery. The slave markets were full of black Jewish slaves

The Subject of the Name of the Most High

This is a very sensitive topic because anyone who knows anything about the spiritual realm or the Bible in and of itself, knows that there is power in a name. Especially, the name of the Most High GOD. I am including a couple of varying articles discussing this topic.

Personally, I intend to ascribe to the Paleo Hebrew "Ahaya asher Ahaya" (I AM that I AM) and Yashyah (the Son), versus the Yahuwah and Yahushua which are derived from the "Tetragrammaton" of YHWH. As a student of religions, including Paganism and Magick. I distinctly recall being told that the tetragrammaton is the "secretive name of God", never to be spoken and often used in High Ritual Magick (Illuminists, OTO, Satanist, Qabalist, Chaos Magickians, etc.). The point is the name or the vibrations made when one calls upon a name has power.

The bottom line is you want to be sure you are calling upon the Most High God of the Israelites and not some secret mis-interpretation designed to keep us following the wrong path and calling upon idols. What I suggest is that you get out your Hebrew dictionaries and do some research.

Why Yahuwah & Yahushua Only

World's Last Chance is committed to presenting truth and truth alone as it is discovered from Scripture. Many organizations and individuals choose to ignore or bury any new truth that disagrees with their previously stated beliefs, assuming that people will lose faith in them if they have to make a course correction. When printed in books, preached to congregations or posted on a website, long-held beliefs seem cast in concrete.

World's Last Chance believes that truth is ever advancing and has covenanted to bring to its website advancing truth as it unfolds. There will be, therefore, older material that may seem inconsistent with newer postings. However, it is felt that the other truths in the previously written articles are still important and should not be taken off and discarded because of that inconsistency.

An example is the use of the corrected name of the Creator, Yahuwah, and His Son, Yahushua. There are many articles, videos and eCourses on World's Last Chance that still have the names as Jesus, God, Lord, etc. These will be corrected as time allows, but there is so much new material to be written that the WLC Team has chosen to move on to posting new material, before all previous material has been corrected.

Scripture says that the Creator winks at the times of our ignorance (Acts 17:30). How kind and understanding that is! If you come across places where the old pagan names are used, kindly send us a copy of the URL and the offending paragraph for our correction.

Most people are used to hearing the heavenly Father called "God." That is not His name, though! In Bible times, He was never called that. "God" was the word the pagan Teutonic people of Northern Europe used for their demonic objects of worship. When they were Christianized, they simply switched the word from their demon gods to the Creator. Hardly a way to honor the heavenly Father!

When a word is transferred from one language to another, it is either translated or transliterated. When it is translated the meaning of the word is transferred. When it is transliterated it is the sound of the word that is transferred. The transliteration of the Father's personal name, as given in scripture, is actually YHWH, pronounced Yahuwah. The translation of this name is I Am That I Am. It implies that the One who bears the name is self-existent from eternity past to eternity future. When Moses asked how he should answer when the Israelites asked who had sent him to them, the reply was: "I AM THAT I AM . . . Thus shall you say unto the children of Israel, I AM has sent me unto you." (Exodus 3:14)

While "Jesus" is commonly used to refer to the Son, it is actually from the Greek "Iesous," which refers to the pagan god, Zeus. The name of Yahuwah's Son is very much like His own: Yahushua. As with the Father's own personal, divine name, the importance of the Son's name is found in its definition. The beautiful meaning contained in the Saviour's name is an all-encompassing revelation of the mighty salvation offered sinners. Yahushua means:

- Yahuwah Save! (A cry for help to the only One who can help.)
- Yahuwah Saves! (A joyous statement of fact.)
- Yahuwah Saving (An present-tense immediate action.)
- Yahuwah's Salvation (An all-encompassing statement of who and what the Saviour is.)

When the angel Gabriel was sent to Mary to tell her she would bear Yahuwah's Son, he told her what to name the Baby: "You will conceive in your womb, and bring forth a Son, and shall call His name Yahushua." (Luke 1:31) Joseph was told the same thing by the angel: "You shall call His name Yahushua for He shall save His people from their sins." (Matthew 1:21)

In Scripture, there are over 360 names or titles for the Father and the Son, from The Rose of Sharon, to The Provider. Other names applied to the Father and the Son are: The Lily of the Valley, My Shepherd, My Healer, My Banner (in War), My Guide, My Light, My Bread, My Life. Elohim, or El, means The Mighty One. In ancient times, parents would name their children under the inspiration of Yahuwah. This is seen in the many names which contain references to Yahuwah (Yah) and El.

- Abijah - AbiYah: worshipper of Yah
- Azariah - AzarYah: Yahuwah has helped
- Azaziah - AzazYahu: Yahuwah has strengthened
- Daniel - DaniEl: judge of El
- Elijah - EliYah: El of Yah (Mighty One of Yahuwah)
- Elisabeth - Elisbet: El of (the) oath
- Ezekiel - YechzqEl: El will strengthen
- Gabriel - Gabriy'El: man of El
- Isaiah - YeshaYah: Yahuwah has saved
- Ismaiah - YishmaYah: Yahuwah will hear
- Israel - YisraEl: he will rule (as) El

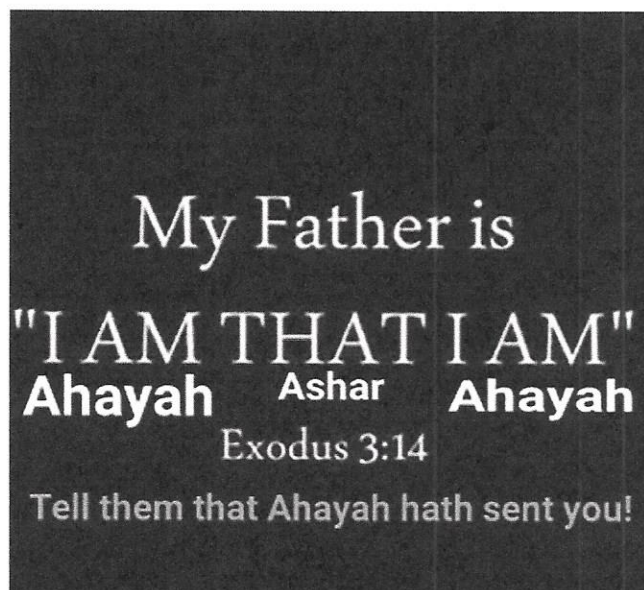

- Jedidiah - YedydeYah: beloved of Yah
- Jeremiah - YermeYah: Yahuwah will rise
- Joel - Yah'El: Yah (is his) El (Mighty One)
- Jonathan - Yahownathan: Yahuwah-given
- Joshua - Yehushuwa: Yahuwah saves
- Josiah - YoshiYah: founded of Yahuwah
- Michaiah - MiykaYah: who is like Yah?
- Michael - Miyka'El: who is like El?
- Mishael - Mysha'El: Who is what El is
- Samuel - Shemuw'El: heard of El
- Zechariah - ZekarYah: Yahuwah has remembered

World's Last Chance uses Yahuwah's and Yahushua's true names, rather than the names and titles originally applied to pagan gods.

However, His holy name should always be used carefully and with the utmost reverence and respect. Yahuwah's words have power! Scripture reveals that the Almighty One is so powerful that even His words are powerful enough to do what the word is. (See Isaiah 55:11.) This is why, when He created the world, all He had to do was speak: "Let there be light," and there was light! To say the very name which the Almighty Creator has given Himself is to speak a holy word that contains infinite power. When the holy angels speak His name, they cover their faces out of respect for it is holy and mighty like the One to whom it refers.

Yasha Ahayah Bible Scriptures

Jesus is a Pagan Term. No Jesus found in the Codex Sinaiticus, the Oldest New Testament, but the name of the Messiah "ΙΣ" found in the Codex Sinaiticus is Yasha in Paleo Hebrew!

The Codex Sinaiticus (Σιναιτικὸς Κώδικας) uses the "nomina sacra" (sacred abbreviation) "ΙΣ" for Iesous (Iota Sigma).

Since Koine Greek had no linguistic equivalent to the letter ψ shin [sh], it was replaced with σ sigma [s], and a masculine singular ending [-s] was added in the nominative case to allow the name to be logically inflected.

"ΙΣ" for Messiah

IΣ=lota Sigma (I=lota=Yodh=י="Ya" in Paleo Hebrew) (Σ=Sigma=Shin ש="Sha" in Paleo Hebrew)

Iota is the ninth letter of the Greek alphabet. It was derived from the Phoenician letter Yodh.

Yodh= Hebrew Yōd י=Ya
That is "Ya" in ancient Hebrew Alphabet

Hebrew Shin ש The Phoenician letter gave rise to the Greek Sigma (Σ) and the letter Sha in the Glagolitic
That is a "Sha" in ancient Hebrew Alphabet.

"IΣ" for Iesous (Jesus)= (Iota Sigma)="Ya"-“sha” in Paleo Hebrew!

The Messiah name Yasha is found in the Codex Sinaiticus the Oldest Greek New Testament Bible! 20 other Papyrus New Testament Greek manuscripts containing nomina sacra (before 300 CE) also have Yasha hidden in the "nomina sacra" (sacred abbreviation) "IΣ".

Imagine, the name of the Messiah is right there in the Codex Sinaiticus and earlier Papyrus manuscripts!

Ancient Hebrew Alphabet

ת	ש	ר	ק	פ	צ	ע	ס	נ	מ	ל
Tha	Sha	Ra	Qa	Taza	Pa	I	Sa	Na	Ma	La

A name almost forgotten, higher than all other names, hidden in the word of the Bible!

In medieval times the Jews whom rejected the Messiah (Saviour) called His name

Yeshu harasha' or Yeshu rasha' with Yeshu being an acronym for the formula "may his name and memory be obliterated" (see Toledot Yeshu). This is very close to Yasha' which means Saviour in Hebrew.

John 8:58 Yâsha' said unto them, Verily, verily, I say unto you, Before Abraham was, I am (Ahâyâh).

I am is Ahayah Exodus 3:14!

Did you know that the Father also has the name Ah-Yasha?

The Father and the SON both have the SAME NAME!

Did you know in every Bible translation including the King James Bible that our Heavenly Father's personal name Ahayah has been taken out and replaced with titles and even names of pagan deities more than 10,000 times? The word Bible itself is of pagan origin, so the term scriptures is used instead.

Babylon worshipped foreign Gods. We need to be giving glory to Ahayah and Yasha and not pagan gods, like Lord, God, Elohim, EL, Jehovah and Jesus to name a few.

John 5:43 I am come in my Father's name, and ye receive me not: if another shall come in his own name, him ye will receive.

Many common terms used in most Bibles today have pagan origins.

Exodus 23:13 And in all things that I have said unto you be circumspect: and make no mention of the name of other gods, neither let it be heard out of thy mouth.

My background is a civil engineer and artist and inventor. 8 years ago, I became interested in finding the truth to the trinity, I couldn't find it in the Scriptures. But I found the echad, in Paleo Hebrew is the dja Ahcâd which is united oneness, Deuteronomy 6:4

Trinity was invented by a man named Tertullian who wrote Liber De Palio and so there is no life from following it. From there I did research looking for his holy name. I thought it was יהוה Yahweh (YHWH), but Exodus 3:14 clearly shows in Hebrew that His Holy Name is Ahâyâh (AHYH). Both the Father and Son say you need to know and call out their proper names. Acts 4:12, Romans 10:9 and Romans 10:13.

Acts 4:12 Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.

Romans 10:9 That if thou shalt confess with thy mouth the Master Yâsha', and shalt believe in thine heart that Ahâyâh hath raised him from the dead, thou shalt be saved.

Romans 10:13 For whosoever shall call upon the name of Ahâyâh shall be saved.

Satan has deceived the whole world! (Revelation 12:9)

The time has come for you to know your true Creator (Father and Son).

Struggling? Looking for a better way to get your prayers answered?

It is hard to communicate if you are praying to your creator and you inadvertently have been using a pagan name.

Maybe the reason why your prayers have gone unanswered is because you haven't had the proper name of the Father and Son?

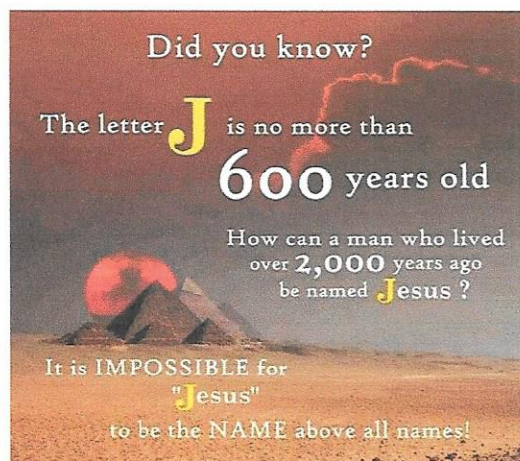

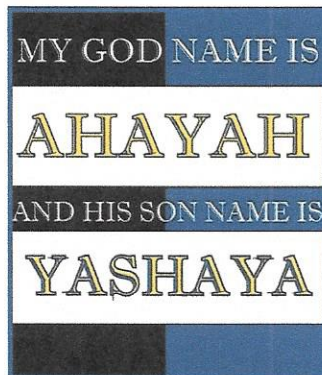

You have probably never heard of Ahayah, its in the original Paleo Hebrew and Yasha, the Son, means Saviour in Hebrew

The Fathers name is found in Exodus 3:14

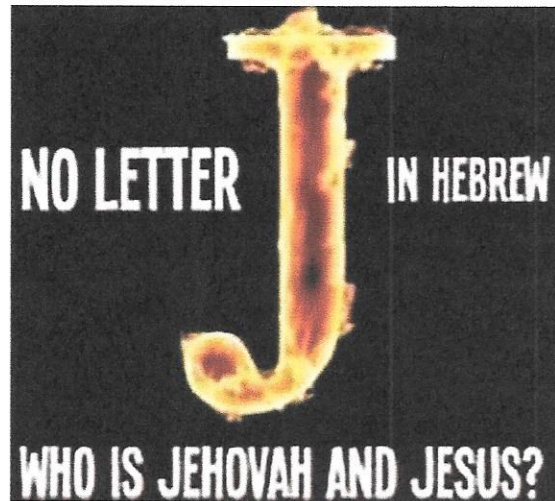

I AM THAT I AM = אהיה אשר אהיה

I AM = אהיה =

in Paleo Hebrew, which is Ahayah Ashar Ahayah.

There was no letter "J" 500 years ago. The letter "J" has been added to the Alphabet recently. Netanyahu in Hebrew, his name is said phonetically in every country. Why are most people not using the Hebrew names of the Father and Son? Ahayah (Father) and Yashayah (My Saviour) are the true Hebrew names.

Acts 4:12 Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved.

It is important to be praying to the REAL Father and Son, Ahayah and Yasha.

Coming out of Babylon!

Revelation 18:4 And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, "Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues".
Revelation 18:5 For her sins have reached unto heaven, and Ahâyâh hath remembered her iniquities.

Exodus 23:13 And in all things that I have said unto you be circumspect: and make no mention of the name of other gods, neither let it be heard out of thy mouth.

We are not supposed to be using other names for the Father and Son! The proper names are Ahayah and Yasha. Everything else is pagan idols.

Clean & Unclean Foods

One of the MAJOR disadvantages of our enslavement is having been subjected to eating foods which the Most High forbade us to eat. Most of our ancestors were forced to eat these things, others came to eat these things as the slave masters made sure that it was the only foods provided to us...what has happened now is we are accustomed to eating these forbidden things and as a result it is hard to break the habit. Some of us who know it is wrong, come up with things to justify our continued consumption, for example: "My family member who live to be 100 years old ate pork all his life."

Not being funny, but we all done heard something similar to that. Or, I been eating bacon all my life and I am healthy. Not realizing that when it its said, "You are what you eat." That is meant literally, we suffer from hypertension (high-blood pressure), atherosclerosis (hardening of the arteries), and Type 2 Diabetes far more than any other race. Mainly because we are killing ourselves, and, before someone says, "Asians, and Whites eat pork too..."yeah some of them also eat dogs and cats, and we've all seen the movies where Whites in Mideval times would roast a rat before starve. All of which are expressly forbidden to us as God's chosen people.

I am not saying that it will be easy or that we can do this overnight. It is the hardest for me to stay away from shrimp...I lasted for about 3 months then I relapsed. Then I was somewhere and it wasn't cooked right and I could see that it had not been cleaned (deveined properly) well you get my point...I've been straight for about a month or two since. The bottom line is I am making a conscious effort to eat in accordance with that the Bible says the Most High expects of me.

Start by reading the Bible:

Leviticus Chapter 11

- 1 And the LORD spake unto Moses and to Aaron, saying unto them,
- 2 Speak unto the children of Israel, saying, These are the beasts which ye shall eat among all the beasts that are on the earth.
- 3 Whatsoever parteth the hoof, and is clovenfooted, and cheweth the cud, among the beasts, that shall ye eat.
- 4 Nevertheless these shall ye not eat of them that chew the cud, or of them that divide the hoof: as the camel, because he cheweth the cud, but divideth not the hoof; he is unclean unto you.
- 5 And the coney, because he cheweth the cud, but divideth not the hoof; he is unclean unto you.
- 6 And the hare, because he cheweth the cud, but divideth not the hoof; he is unclean unto you.
- 7 And the swine, though he divide the hoof, and be clovenfooted, yet he cheweth not the cud; he is unclean to you.
- 8 Of their flesh shall ye not eat, and their carcase shall ye not touch; they are unclean to you.
- 9 These shall ye eat of all that are in the waters: whatsoever hath fins and scales in the waters, in the seas, and in the rivers, them shall ye eat.
- 10 And all that have not fins and scales in the seas, and in the rivers, of all that move in the waters, and of any living thing which is in the waters, they shall be an abomination unto you:
- 11 They shall be even an abomination unto you; ye shall not eat of their flesh, but ye shall have their carcases in abomination.
- 12 Whatsoever hath no fins nor scales in the waters, that shall be an abomination unto you.

This is only the beginning as there are 47 verses that talk about food and cleanliness and the dealing with of dead animal carcasses. That's right some things you are not only not to eat but are not to even touch. Like Swine flesh (ever grocery shop in a store outside of the hood? Ralphs in Beverly Hill is the same as Ralphs in Baldwin Hills, only difference is the meat section is divided up totally different – and you think they don't know who WE are? They know who WE are and that they are killing us and keeping us from doing what the LORD wants us to do. We gotta wake up!)

Meat Section at Ralphs in Beverly Hills

Beef & Lamb	Pork	Chicken & Turkey	Fish
-------------	------	------------------	------

Meat Section at Ralphs in Baldwin Hills - Crenshaw

Beef & Lamb	Pork	Chicken & Turkey	Fish
-------------	------	------------------	------

This subject must have been important to the Most High God for his people as he brings it up several times in the Bible, read:

Deuteronomy 14:2 - 14:21

2For thou art an holy people unto the LORD thy God, and the LORD hath chosen thee to be a peculiar people unto himself, above all the nations that are upon the earth.

3Thou shalt not eat any abominable thing.

4These are the beasts which ye shall eat: the ox, the sheep, and the goat,

5The hart, and the roebuck, and the fallow deer, and the wild goat, and the pygarg, and the wild ox, and the chamois.

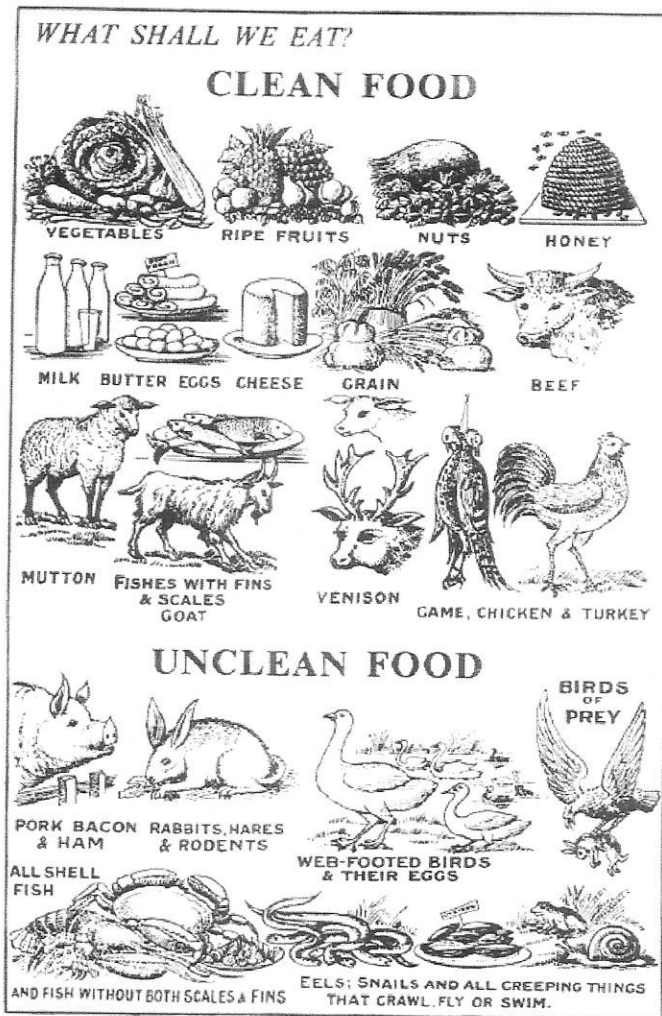

6And every beast that parteth the hoof, and cleaveth the cleft into two claws, and cheweth the cud among the beasts, that ye shall eat.

7Nevertheless these ye shall not eat of them that chew the cud, or of them that divide the cloven hoof; as the camel, and the hare, and the coney: for they chew the cud, but divide not the hoof; therefore they are unclean unto you.

8And the swine, because it divideth the hoof, yet cheweth not the cud, it is unclean unto you: ye shall not eat of their flesh, nor touch their dead carcase.

9These ye shall eat of all that are in the waters: all that have fins and scales shall ye eat:

10And whatsoever hath not fins and scales ye may not eat; it is unclean unto you.

"Clean" and "Unclean" Food

What do animals that are described in the Bible as "unclean" have in common? They are scavengers. They eat carrion (dead and decaying flesh, and excrement). These animals are much more likely to contain parasites and high levels of toxins in their bodies. By avoiding these as food, we also avoid ingesting their toxic waste and unwelcome "guests" (parasites). Animals described in the Bible as "clean" are those that chew the cud and have split hoofs. What they have in common is that they are vegetarians, digest their food through thoroughly, do not eat carrion, and are more healthy food choices. Similarly, birds that are not labeled "unclean", and fish that have both fins and scales are not scavengers and therefore make better food choices.

I am attaching a couple of articles on Clean and Unclean Fish – Sorry for all those catfish lovers...but it's time to let it go! Just because it's cheaply priced doesn't make it good for you and your family. And be carefully with the new stuff on the market...Swai (Asian Catfish). But there is still plenty of good fish from the sea that are good to eat. Look for "WILD CAUGHT" when possible. I know it costs more but its better for you!

Wild Caught vs Farm-Raised (aka Ocean-Raised) Fish?

Unfortunately, farm-raised fish have almost taken over the market. In some areas it's almost impossible to find wild fish and when you do, the price is considerably higher than the farm-raised fish. The debate continues as to the whether or not farm-raised fish are full of toxins, such as mercury and PCB's (polychlorinated biphenyls, a "probable human carcinogen" according to the EPA and banned in 1977). However, some things are not in question... farm-raised fish are held in containment cells, which don't allow adequate space for swimming. Like anything living in crowded conditions, they are prone to disease, requiring antibiotics, which of course we consume when we eat them.

Additionally, this environment doesn't allow the fish to eat naturally. They are fed prepared fish food, which affects not only their nutritional value and their coloring, but also their taste. The danger of this prepared fish food was highlighted in the spring of 2007 during the big pet food scare, which was traced to a tainted Chinese ingredient. Some of the contaminated flour was mislabeled as gluten and mixed into fish food in Canada and exported to the USA, where it was fed to farmed-fish!

Low Calorie

Of course the total number of calories will depend on how you choose to prepare your fish. While great for the taste buds, frying adds far more calories to fish than baking, broiling, steaming or poaching. Some may feel that fish without butter or tartar sauce is like a day without sunshine, but there are other ways to add great flavor to your fish without these added calories. Basil, thyme, rosemary, curry powder, paprika, red pepper flakes, lemon, lime, and balsamic or plum vinegar will enhance the flavor of the fish without adding all those extra calories.

Quick Fish Recipe

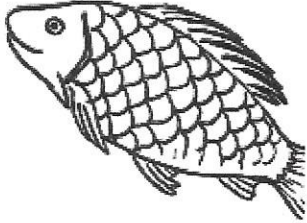

Clean fish fillets by rubbing a little sea salt over them and rinsing with cold water. Marinate fillets of salmon, tilapia, flounder, or your favorite fish (15 min. to 1 hr. but overnight is even better) in dried thyme leaves, Herbes de Provence*, sea salt, pepper (white or black), red pepper flakes or powder (optional), and plum vinegar or lemon juice. Bake or broil 10-25 minutes, depending on type of fish, thickness of fillet and whether baked or broiled.

*Unable to find Herbes de Provence at your favorite grocer? Make your own... it includes winter savory, thyme, rosemary, basil, tarragon, & lavender flowers. Don't like the "fish oil" taste of some fish? Add a 1-3 whole cloves and some dried thyme to your favorite recipe and enjoy!

Clean Fish Must Have Fins and Scales

Like the animals (the behemoths) of the earth the Creator says that those things that live in the water which are good for food also have two distinguishing characteristics; they must have both fins and scales.

“These you may eat of all that are in the water: whatever in the water has fins and scales, whether in the seas or in the rivers—that you may eat. But all in the seas or in the rivers that do not have fins and scales, all that move in the water or any living thing which is in the water, they are an abomination to you. They shall be an abomination to you; you shall not eat their flesh, and you shall regard their carcasses as an abomination. Whatever in the water does not have fins and scales—that shall be an abomination to you.” (Lev 11:9-12)

“These you may eat of all that are in the waters: you may eat all that have fins and scales. And whatever does not have fins and scales you shall not eat; it is unclean for you. (Deu 14:9-10)

Fins And Scales Makes It Easy

Easy peasy, right?! Pleasing Yehovah in this area of our life is not rocket science. Like the four-footed animals, the behemoth of the earth, the fish that Yehovah’s people are to eat, sustain themselves from living food, and not from the bottom of the sea, lakes and rivers where the dead and the filth accumulates. The garbage cans of the waters are primarily shell-fish and other fish that dwell at their bottoms.

Here is one list of fish that are acceptable in promoting the Creator’s image in the earth and a second list of the abominations which shall not be eaten by His people. Hope this helps you.

Clean Animals Have Split Hooves

Of the clean animals that walk on the earth Yehovah said:

“You may eat every animal with cloven hooves, having the hoof split into two parts, and chews the cud, among the animals.” (Deu 14:6)

The first characteristic that clean animals must have if they are meant for food is a cloven hoof, or put another way, a hoof split into to parts.

The horse has a hoof that is not split. It is solid all the way around. While the dromedary (camel) has a hoof that is split in the front but is solid in the back. (Click on photo to enlarge)

A cloven hooved animal has two complete divided parts as does the hoof of a goat pictured on the left and the hoof of a swine (pig) on the right. Note: Finding a picture of live swine hoof, that I could see through the filth these animals live in, was not easy.

As they say on Sesame Street, one of these animals is not like the others. For only one of these is considered food by the Creator. The horse and the camel can be ruled out because they do not have split hooves. But to differentiate between the second two we must understand how their body process what is eaten.

Clean Animals Chew Their Cud

The final characteristic which these clean animals must have to be considered as food for Yehovah's people is, they must chew their cud.

Animals that chew their cud are called ruminant animals; they chew the cud regurgitated from their rumen, or their stomach, sometimes called their first stomach.

This diagram shows a ruminant's digestive track. The ruminant, let's say a goat, eats the forage. The forage passes through its esophagus to the rumen, which scientists see as a large fermentation vat, also called the "paunch." There is not much oxygen in there, but there are a lot of gases. The gases in the rumen cause the bolus or the chewed food to regurgitate, or pass back up the esophagus into the mouth. The ruminant then rechews that bolus, invigorating it with more saliva, and passes it back to the rumen, where the process continues. The rumen hosts many microorganisms which eventually digest the food, making fatty acids, protein and vitamins. Eventually everything passes into the abomasum which is the true stomach and passes into the large intestine for water absorption and the small intestine for the final digestion of proteins, carbohydrates, and fats.

Ruminant animals are designed by the Creator to eat live food, they do not eat meat and especially anything that has died. In contrast, swine will eat practically anything, alive or dead; a pig will eat its own young, its own feces and a pig will eat you.

A rabbit and a hare have a completely vegetarian diet and both chew their cud, but they do not have hooves, divided or otherwise. They have paws, and everything that has paws is considered unfit by our Creator for human consumption.

The Sabbath (Calendar) Controversy

One of the many problems with attempting to follow biblical law is that there are so many interpretations of the law. For example the IUIC (Israel United in Christ – Hebrew Israelite Camps) and GOCC (Gathering of Christ Church – Hebrew Israelite Church) say the Sabbath starts on Friday at sundown until Saturday at sundown, yet their High Holy Days are differ. Then there is the Luni-Solar Calendar that calculates the Sabbath according to the New Moon being the start of the month.

All use the same scriptures to support their methods of calculation, and in some instances their methods are not very far from each other i.e. Passover timing between IUIC and WLC, though their methods differ greatly they came very close to the same conclusion. I have included the Luni-Solar Calendar for the month of June, it is the Calendar that works best for me in my line of work as the Sabbath days vary in accord with the New Moon allowing me to request those days off when at all possible.

However, the Hebrew Israelite camps and church keep it simple by giving a set time and schedule based on our regular calendar. Again I advise you to research and read the word for yourself and determine what works best for you and ask the Most High for guidance.

Lucifer god of Judaism? Reply to Jewish Scholar

April 9, 2010

"Brother, I am Jewish. Do you think I get pleasure in exposing the evils of my people? How do you think this makes my Orthodox relatives feel? Or my parents? My grandparents? I love Christ more, as He said: "He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me" (Mat 10:37).

by Will Newman

(Will Newman attended Jewish synagogue, and has relatives involved in Talmudism, Cabala, B'nai Brith and Masonry. Will addresses the response of a Jewish scholar, who wishes to remain anonymous.)

"Who is a liar but he that denieth that Jesus is the Christ? He is antichrist, that denieth the Father and the Son. Whosoever denieth the Son, the same hath not the Father: he that acknowledgeth the Son hath the Father also." (1 John 2:22-23)

My purpose in writing the article was to help free people from the deceptions of Satan and encourage them to follow Christ. All religion is of Satan, not just the Jewish religion. Religion is nothing but ritual and philosophy. Where does God say to form a religion? God wants our obedience, love for our brethren, and faith in his Son.

Before defending Judaism or any religion remember what God says: "Woe unto them that call evil good, and good evil..." (Isa 5:20). "Woe unto them that are wise in their own eyes, and prudent in their own sight!" (Isa 5:21)

If you research the occult, you will learn that they worship Yahweh and Lucifer as the same entity and that names are of the utmost importance in the spiritual realm. Do you think that God did not know the importance of His own name? How else does one know who they are praying to if they do not invoke him by name? How do you know you are not praying to the devil?

"I am the LORD: that is my name: and my glory will I not give to another" (Isa 42:8). "Neither is there salvation in any other: for there is none other name under heaven given among men, whereby we must be saved" (Act 4:12).

"O LORD, thou art my God; I will exalt thee, I will praise thy name..." (Isa 25:1).

How can you praise God if you don't even know his name? Someone's name is the first thing you learn when you meet them. The Bible tells you that God's name is I AM THAT I AM (AHAYAH), "this is my name for ever," and you reject it?

Will you accept the Jewish Encyclopedia?

Under "tetragrammaton": "The oldest exegetes, such as Oná, ³elos, and the Targumim of Jerusalem and pseudo-Jonathan regard "Ehyeh" and "Ehyeh asher Ehyeh" as the name of the Divinity, and accept the etymology of "hayah" = "to be" (comp. Samuel b. MeĀ r, commentary on Ex. iii. 14)." Or under "Adonai and Ba'al": "The name Ba'al, apparently is an equivalent for Yhwh."

Do you place more faith in your degrees and education than in God? What theological seminary did Moses go to? What school did Christ go to? None! They received their wisdom through faith in their Creator and in his Word.

"Thus saith the LORD; Cursed be the man that trusteth in man...whose heart departeth from the LORD"(Jer 17:5). Blessed is the man that trusteth in the LORD, and whose hope the LORD is" (Jer 17:7).

You say: "No typical Jewish thought today claims to know God's real name. It has been lost throughout the ages. In fact, only the High Priest and his family ever knew God's name..."

The Jewish Encyclopedia will tell you under "blasphemy" that: "According to Talmudic tradition, the Sacred Name was in early times known to all; but later its use was restricted (Ķid. 71a)."

The name AHAYAH was restricted because it has the power to save those who pray to that name. Christ prayed to the name I AM: "Before Abraham was, I am." (Jn 8:58).

Of course you aren't going to get the truth in a theological seminary paid for with filthy lucre. Brother, I am Jewish. Do you think I get pleasure in exposing the evils of my people? How do you think this makes my Orthodox relatives feel? Or my parents? My grandparents? I love Christ more, as He said: "He that loveth father or mother more than me is not worthy of me" (Mat 10:37).

THE TALMUD

You claim: "[the] Talmud to be a valuable source of historic and homiletic keys to understanding our Messiah."

Apparently you have not read the Talmud because this is what it says about Christ and non-Jews:

"Jesus is in hell, being boiled in "hot excrement" (Gittin 57a).

"Mary, the mother of Jesus, was a whore and played the harlot with carpenters" (Sanhedrin, 106a,b).

"[Christ] practised sorcery and enticed Israel to apostacy" (Sanhedrin, 43a).

"Jews must destroy the books of the Christians, i.e. the New Testament" (Shabbath 116a).

"A Jew may have sex with a child as long as the child is less than nine years old" (Sanhedrin 54b).

"When a grown-up man has intercourse with a little girl it is nothing" (Kethuboth 11b).

"A woman who had intercourse with a beast is eligible to marry a Jewish priest. A woman who has sex with a demon is also eligible to marry a Jewish priest" (Yebamoth 59b).

"All gentile children are animals" (Yebamoth 98a).

"Jews may use lies ('subterfuges') to circumvent a Gentile" (Baba Kamma 113a).

"When a Jew murders a gentile ('Cuthean'), there will be no death penalty. What a Jew steals from a gentile he may keep" (Sanhedrin 57a).

Can I stop reading yet? Throw every last volume of the Talmud in the garbage where it belongs. It is pure wickedness!

SALVATION THROUGH THE JEWS?

You say: "Do not the scriptures also teach to love and respect the Jewish people."

Yes, we are to love the Children of Israel, which I do with all my heart and strength, however neither you nor I are among the biblical Children of Israel. The Ashkenazi Jews are Russians, descending from the Khazar Empire.

Not to mention, according to prophecy, the return of the Jews to their land will come at the time of Christ's return and He will usher in world peace: "And he shall judge among the nations, and shall rebuke many people: and they shall beat their swords into plowshares, and their spears into pruning hooks: nation shall not lift up sword against nation, neither shall they learn war any more."

Christ is not back yet and the true Israelites are still scattered throughout the four corners of the earth. There are millions of dead Arabs to prove that the real Jews have not returned to Israel yet.

Deuteronomy chapter 28 tells us that, for their disobedience to God, curses will "...be upon [the Israelites] for a sign and for a wonder, and upon [their] seed for ever." (Deu 28:46).

By these curses we know who Israel is. Do the Jew-ish (Jew-like) people fit these curses?:

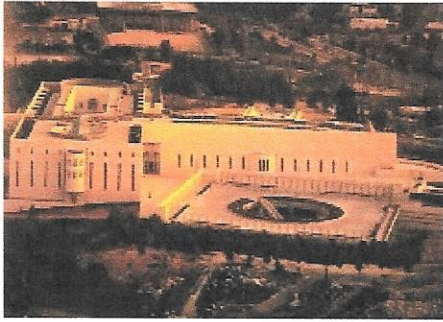

"And thou, even thyself, shalt discontinue from thine heritage that I gave thee; and I will cause thee to serve thine enemies in the land which thou knowest not: for ye have kindled a fire in mine anger, which shall burn for ever" (Jer 17:4). "Is Israel a servant? is he a homeborn slave?" (Jer 2:14). "The children also of Judah and the children of Jerusalem have ye sold unto the Grecians, that ye might remove them far from their border" (Joe 3:6).

It is written that the Biblical Israelites would forget their identity, be sold into slavery with ships, and be impoverished FOREVER. The African-Americans and other West African families are the historical tribe of Judah. The Ashkenazi Jews were the principle financiers of the slave trade (I hope to publish another article about this with mountains of proof!)

Christ told us about the Jew-ish people that were to come:

"I know thy works, and tribulation, and poverty, [of the true Israelites] (but thou art rich) and I know the blasphemy of them which say they are Jews, and are not, but are the synagogue of Satan" (Rev 2:9). "Behold, I will make them of the synagogue of Satan, which say they are Jews, and are not, but do lie; behold, I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee" (Rev 3:9).

FREEMASONRY

Regarding Freemasonry in Israel, this article shows the extent of its power:

"He that regardeth reproof is prudent." (Pro 15:5)

"Correction is grievous unto him that forsaketh the way."

(Pro 15:10) I pray that you come into the truth, Brother, and forsake Judaism and religion altogether, "For I am not ashamed of the gospel of Christ" (Rom 1:16).

England's first Black Queen, Sophie Charlotte born

Queen Charlotte of England, 1863 portrait

*Princess Sophie Charlotte was born on this date in 1744. She was the first Black Queen of England.

Charlotte was the eighth child of the Prince of Mirow, Germany, Charles Louis Frederick, and his wife, Elisabeth Albertina of Saxe-Hildburghausen. In 1752, when she was eight years old, Sophie Charlotte's father died. As princess of Mecklenburg-Strelitz, Sophie Charlotte was descended directly from an African branch of the Portuguese Royal House, Margarita de Castro y Sousa. Six different lines can be traced from Princess Sophie Charlotte back to Margarita de Castro y Sousa. She married George III of England on September 8, 1761, at the Chapel Royal in St James's Palace, London, at the age of 17 years of age becoming the Queen of England and Ireland.

The conditions of the marriage contract were, 'The young princess, join the Anglican church and be married according to Anglican rites, and never ever involve herself in politics'. Although the Queen had an interest in what was happening in the world, especially the war in America, she fulfilled her marital agreement. The Royal couple had fifteen children, thirteen of whom survived to adulthood. Their fourth eldest son was Edward Augustus, Duke of Kent, later fathered Queen Victoria.

Queen Charlotte made many contributions to Britain as it is today, though the evidence is not obvious or well publicized. Her African bloodline in the British royal family is not common knowledge. Portraits of the Queen had been reduced to fiction of the Black Magi, until two art historians suggested that the definite African features of the paintings derived from actual subjects, not the minds of painters.

In Queen Charlotte's era slavery was prevalent and the anti-slavery campaign was growing. Portrait painters of the royal family were expected to play down or soften Queen Charlotte's African features. Painters such as Sir Thomas Lawrence, who painted, Queen Charlotte in the autumn of 1789 had their paintings rejected by the royal couple who were not happy with the representations of the likeness of the Queen. These portraits are amongst those that are available to view now, which could be seen as continuing the political interests of those that disapprove of a multi-racial royal family for Britain. Sir Allan Ramsey produced the most African representations of the Queen and was responsible for the majority of the paintings of the Queen. Ramsey's inclination to paint truer versions of the Queen could be seen to have come from being 'an anti-slavery intellectual of his day. The Coronation painting by Ramsey, of the Queen was sent out to the colonies/commonwealth and played a subtle political role in the anti-slavery movement. Johann Zoffany also frequently painted the Royal family in informal family scenes.

Queen Charlotte was a learned character, her letters indicate that she was well read and had interests in the fine arts. The Queen is known to have supported and been taught music by Johann Christian Bach. She was extremely generous to Bach's wife after Bach's death. Wolfgang Amadeus Mozart, at aged eight dedicated his Opus 3 piece to the Queen at her request.

Also an amateur botanist, Queen Charlotte helped to establish Kew Gardens bringing amongst others the Strelitzia Reginae, a flowering plant from South Africa. The Queen who had the first one in her house in 1800 introduced the Christmas tree to England. It was said to be decorated with, 'sweetmeats, almonds and raisins in papers, fruit and toys. Also the Queen Charlotte Maternity hospital was established in London. Set up as a charitable institution, it is the oldest maternity care institution in England.

Queen Charlotte died on November 17, 1818 at Dutch House in Surrey, now Kew Palace, in the presence of her eldest son, the Prince Regent. She is buried at St George's Chapel, Windsor. The only private writings that have survived are Queen Charlotte's 444 letters to her closest confidant her older brother, Charles II, Grand Duke of Mecklenburg-Strelitz. On 23 May 1773 in a letter, the Queen felt she was in a position of privilege yet a task. Her Christian faith was a protection and a method of endurance, as she quotes from the Bible and recognizes her role as a royal of God beyond her royal role on earth. An exhibition took place in 2004, at the Queen's Gallery, Buckingham Palace displaying Charlotte and George's collections and tastes in the arts. Queen Charlotte was the great great-great grandmother of the present Queen Elizabeth II who still lives in the expanded Buckingham House, now Buckingham Palace. Kew gardens still flourishes and is always being expanded, also the Queen Charlotte maternity hospital and many other places still carry her name in honor globally such as Charlotte town, Canada and Fort Charlotte, St Vincent, West Indies.

Meghan Markle, Queen Charlotte and the wedding of Britain's first mixed-race royal by DeNeen L. Brown May 19 Email the author

Only six hours before their royal wedding, King George III met Princess Sophia Charlotte of Mecklenburg-Strelitz for the first time. After a difficult storm-tossed journey at sea, the German princess had finally arrived from the German coast in London on Sept. 8, 1761, where George had been impatiently awaiting his chosen bride.

He was 22; she was 17. When Charlotte was introduced to the king, she “threw herself at his feet,” according to the book “A Royal Experiment: The Private Life of King George III” by Janice Hadlow.

But the king pulled Charlotte to her feet, wrapped her in his arms, then led her through the garden and up the steps into St. James Palace.

Crowds of commoners stretched to see this first encounter between the king and his princess, whose brown hair was piled high in curly ringlets falling about her long neck and that appeared to be a beautiful cafe-au-lait.

“The date of my promise is now arrived, and I fulfil it — fulfil it with great satisfaction, for the Queen is come,” wrote Horace Walpole, a Whig politician in a letter describing Charlotte’s 1761 arrival in London. “In half an hour, one heard of nothing but proclamations of her beauty: everybody was content, everybody pleased.”

On Saturday, 257 years later, Britain’s Prince Harry married American actress Meghan Markle, whose mother is black and whose father is white. She’s been hailed as Britain’s first black royal.

But some historians who have researched this question say Charlotte was of African descent and was Britain’s first black royal.

Historian Mario De Valdes y Cocom argues that Charlotte was directly descended from a black branch of the Portuguese royal family: Alfonso III and his concubine, Ouruana, a black Moor.

In the 13th century, “Alfonso III of Portugal conquered a little town named Faro from the Moors,” Valdes, a researcher on the 1996 Frontline PBS documentary “Secret Daughter,” said in an interview with The Washington Post. “He demanded [the governor’s] daughter as a paramour. He had three children with her.”

According to Valdes, one of their sons, Martin Alfonso, married into the noble de Sousa family, which also had black ancestry. And, thus, Charlotte had African blood from both families.

Valdes, who grew up in Belize, began researching Charlotte’s African ancestry in 1967, after he moved to Boston.

He discovered that the royal physician, Baron Christian Friedrich Stockmar, had described Charlotte as “small and crooked, with a true mulatto face.” He also found other descriptions, including Sir Walter Scott writing that she was “ill-colored.” And a prime minister who once wrote of Queen Charlotte: “Her nose is too wide and her lips too thick.”

In several British colonies, Charlotte was often honored by blacks who were convinced from her portraits and likeness on coins that she had African ancestry.

Valdes became fascinated by official portraits of Charlotte in which some of her features, he said, were visibly African.

“I started a systematic genealogical search,” said Valdes, which is how he traced her ancestry back to the mixed-race branch of the Portuguese royal family.

Charlotte, who was born May 19, 1744, was the youngest daughter of Duke Carl Ludwig Friedrich of Mecklenburg-Strelitz and Princess Elisabeth Albertine of Saxe-Hildburghausen.

She was a 17-year-old German princess when she traveled to England to wed King George III, who later went to war with his American colonies and lost badly. His mother most likely chose Charlotte to be his bride.

After George ascended the throne in 1760, according to Buckingham Palace, he set upon a search for a bride. In July 1761, he announced to his council his intention to wed Charlotte.

Then he sent a fleet to Cuxhaven on the German coast to bring her to England.

“They arrived on 14 August 1761,” according to an account by Buckingham Palace, “and were received by Charlotte’s brother, the current Duke, and the marriage contract was signed. Three days of celebrations followed and on 17 August the Princess departed for Britain. The voyage was difficult, with three storms at sea, arriving in London on 8 September.”

The principal yacht, the Royal Caroline, was renamed Royal Charlotte “and sumptuously fitted out for the Princess,” according to an exhibit at the Royal Museums of Greenwich, which contains a painting of the September 1761 arrival of Charlotte at Harwich Harbor. “Westerly gales blew the returning squadron over to the Norwegian coast three times, so it was ten days before it reached Harwich.”

“Back in London, the king’s enthusiasm mounted daily,” Hadlow wrote in his book. “He had acquired a portrait of Charlotte and was said to be mighty fond of it, but won’t let any mortal look at it.”

George ordered that gowns be made and waiting for his bride when she arrived in London.

When she approached the palace, she turned pale, according to Walpole, the Whig politician. “The Duchess of Hamilton smiled,” Walpole wrote, “the princess said, ‘My dear duchess, you may laugh: you have been married twice, but it is no joke to me.’”

Throngs of crowds impatiently waited for a glimpse of the new queen. Her lips trembled as the coach stopped.

“In half an hour, one heard of nothing but proclamations of her beauty: everybody was content, everybody pleased,” Walpole wrote. “She looks very sensible, cheerful, and is remarkably genteel.”

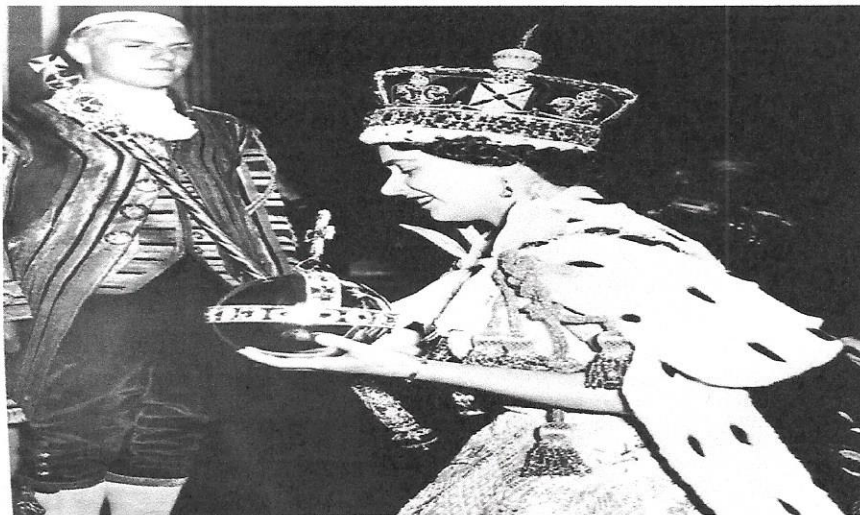

According to the memoirs, Charlotte was described as “being of a middling stature, and rather small, but her shape fine, and carriage graceful; her hands and neck exceedingly well turned; her hair auburn; her face round and fair; the eyes of a light blue, and beaming with sweetness; the nose a little flat, and turned up at the point; the mouth rather large, with rosy lips, and very fine teeth.”

Valdes argues that several royal portraits painted Charlotte with the features of a black queen.

In a portrait by Sir Allan Ramsay, Charlotte is featured wearing a pink silk gown and holding two children. Her dark brown hair is piled high.

Ramsay, Valdes said, was an abolitionist married to the niece of Lord Mansfield, the judge who ruled in 1772 that slavery should be abolished in the British Empire. And Ramsay was uncle by marriage to Dido Elizabeth Lindsay, the black grandniece of Lord Mansfield. Dido’s life story was recently recounted in the movie “Belle.”

In 1999, the London Sunday Times published an article with the headline: “REVEALED: THE QUEEN’S BLACK ANCESTORS.”

Queen Elizabeth II after her coronation ceremony on June 2, 1953. (AP)

“The connection had been rumored but never proved,” the Times wrote. “The royal family has hidden credentials that make its members appropriate leaders of Britain’s multicultural society. It has black and mixed-raced royal ancestors who have never been publicly acknowledged. An American genealogist has established that Queen Charlotte, the wife of George III, was directly descended from the illegitimate son of an African mistress in the Portuguese royal house.”

After the Times story, the Boston Globe hailed Valdes’s research as groundbreaking. Charlotte passed on her mixed-race heritage to her granddaughter, Queen Victoria, and to Britain’s present-day monarch, Queen Elizabeth II.

Some scholars in England dismissed the evidence as weak — and beside the point.

“It really is so remote,” the David Williamson, former co-editor of Debrett’s Peerage, the guide to Britain’s barons, dukes and duchesses, marquises and other titled people, told the Globe. “In any case, all European royal families somewhere are linked to the kings of Castile. There is a lot of Moorish blood in the Portuguese royal family and it has diffused over the rest of Europe. The question is, who cares?”

A Buckingham Palace spokesman did not deny Queen Charlotte’s African ancestry. Spokesman David Buck told the Globe: “This has been rumored for years and years. It is a matter of history, and frankly, we’ve got far more important things to talk about.”

Valdes told The Post that in the current racial climate, Charlotte’s genealogy is important to history. Charlottesville, where white supremacists held a Unite the Right rally that turned violent, “is named after this queen. Her ancestry is very relevant.”

In 1761, George presented Charlotte to his mother, Augusta, his three sisters, his three brothers and his uncle the Duke of Cumberland, according to Hadlow. Before the wedding, they had a very English dinner of partridges stuffed with truffles and venison pastry. While they dined, workers hurriedly set up for the wedding ceremony.

Charlotte, who knew no English upon her arrival, conversed in French and German with the king.

“At 9 p.m., the same evening, within six hours of arrival, the wedding of Princess Charlotte and King George III took place at the Chapel Royal, St. James’s Palace,” according to the official Buckingham Palace site.

For her wedding, Charlotte wore a gown constructed of silver tissue and a tiara of huge diamonds. She accessorized with a purple velvet cape.

“For all its magnificence,” Hadlow wrote, “Charlotte’s outfit was a very poor fit; clearly, the measurements sent across from Mecklenburg had proved no substitute for the more accurate sizing that stays would have provided. The dress, burdened with heavy jewels, was far too large for Charlotte’s slender frame.”

Her gown was too big and her “violet-velvet” wrap was weighted, pulling the neckline down and creating a royal wardrobe malfunction.

Her purple cape, Walpole wrote, was “so heavy, that the spectators knew as much of her upper half as the king himself.”

“Less than a year after marriage, on 12 August 1762,” according to Buckingham Palace, “The Queen gave birth to her first child, The Prince of Wales, who would later become King George IV. In the course of their marriage, the couple became parents of 15 children.”

The royal couple’s official residence was St. James Palace. “But the King had recently purchased a nearby property, Buckingham House,” according to the Royal Encyclopaedia. “In 1762 The King and Queen moved into this new house, making it Buckingham Palace. Charlotte loved it — 14 of her children were born there and it came to be known as ‘The Queen’s House.’ ”

Charlotte was an amateur botanist and a connoisseur of music. She especially liked German composers, including Handel. But her long marriage had an unhappy ending when the king began to suffer bouts of mental illness.

“After the onset of George III’s permanent madness in 1811,” according to Buckingham Palace, “The Prince of Wales became Regent, but Charlotte remained her husband’s guardian until her death in 1818.”

Charlotte is buried at St. George’s Chapel, Windsor Castle. On Saturday, May 19, 2018 that is where Prince Harry will marry Meghan Markle.
